Subject: Nomination of Faculty for "Train The Trainer" (TTT) program on Android Development using Kotlin
Ref: Hon'ble V.C approval dt:08-07-2020

Google Company is planning to start the "Train The Trainer" (TTT) online course for faculty members on the Android Application Development using Kotlin. Kotlin is the advanced version of programming language for developing Android Apps. The proposed TTT is a value added and advanced version of up-skilling training for the faculty members who are handling the subject of "Mobile Application Development". The duration of the training is 3 days (7 hours) which will be conducted online. Upon successful completion of the training the participants will be provided with a badge and a certificate.

The training program is schedule to commence from the month of August 2020 onwards and will continue throughout the year. Nominations for the training session of August 2020 are open.

It is hereby informed to all the principal of the VTU affiliated colleges to nominate two faculty members of your college for the training session. It is advisable to nominate faculty member who is handling the subject "Mobile Application Development". Interested faculty members can contact Dr.N.Sanjeev Kumar, Special Officer, Skill Development Centre for further needful by mail at sanjeevk@vtu.ac.in.
