Circular

Sub : Webinar on "Representation of Women in labour and Society- Difference and Unities".

Ref : Hon'ble Vice-Chancellors approval No. 4, Dated: 18-02-2021.

With Refernce to the above cited subject, a webinar on "Representation of Women in labour and Society- Difference and Unities" under Women Cell, VTU, Belagavi is being organizing for all the students and staff of the VTU on 15-03-2021 at 11:00 AM.

Though women are equal in numbers and strength to men, when it comes to women as a labour, representation is less. Female labour force participation is a driver of growth and therefore, participation rates indicate the potential for a country to grow more rapidly. However, the relationship between women's engagement in the labour market and broader development outcomes are complex. The participation of women in the labour force varies considerably across developing countries and emerging economies, far more than in the case of men. This variation is driven by a wide variety of economic and social factors, including economic growth, increasing educational attainment, falling fertility rates and social norms.

Focus of this webinar is to create awareness among the individuals such as:

- Women representation in society as a labour.
- The differences and unities of Women representation in society.

Speaker: Smt. Sneha P.V. Superintendent of Police, Lokayuktha, Mysore Division, Mysuru.
