Subject: Rectification of Minor Errors and Updates in the Scheme and Syllabus of MBA and its allied Programmes under the 2026 Scheme
Reference: Email from the Board of Studies in MBA, dated 02.11.2026.

With reference to the above, certain minor errors and discrepancies identified in the Scheme and Syllabus of the following MBA and its allied programmes under the 2026 Scheme have been rectified:

1. MBA
2. MBA in Industrial Management
3. MBA in Technology Management
4. MBA in Logistics and Supply Chain Management

The corrections and updates primarily relate to CIE/SEE marks, course codes, teaching-learning hours and certain course contents, as detailed below:

1. CIE/SEE Marks, Course Codes and Teaching-Learning Hours: Minor errors in the above components have been corrected wherever necessary.
2. Applications of Business Tools (3MBA108) and Employability Skills for Managers (3MBA107): These courses were earlier indicated with both CIE and SEE. It has now been clarified that they carry only the CIE component, and the necessary corrections have been made in the Scheme and Syllabus of the MBA and its allied programmes.
3. Common Course Codes: The respective course codes assigned to these common courses across the MBA and its allied programmes have been consolidated and indicated together in a single window for clarity.
4. MBA in Industrial Management – Course Title Revision: The title Employability Skills for Managers has been revised to Communication and Employability Skills. The corresponding syllabus has also been suitably updated.
5. MBA in Industrial Management: The syllabus of Finance and Accounting for Industries (3MIM103) has been slightly revised, and the updated content has been incorporated.

All the above corrections and updates have been incorporated, and the revised Scheme and Syllabus have been uploaded to the VTU website for the information and use of all stakeholders @http://vtu.ac.in/en/pg-scheme-syllabus/.

All concerned stakeholders, particularly, faculty members and students, are requested to refresh the webpage before downloading the updated documents and ensure that only the latest revised versions are referred to and used for academic purposes. Your cooperation in this regard is appreciated.
